ReWa Hosts Greenville County Disability & Special Needs Board

Greenville, S.C. (March 1, 2010) — ReWa recently hosted an educational tour for the Community Service Department of the Greenville County Disability & Special Needs Board.

The tour of the Gilder Creek wastewater treatment plant was led by Gilder Creek Plant Manager Kyle Lindsay and David Collyer, followed by a Freshwater Freddie Fats, Oils & Grease Presentation by Customer Service Manager Stacey Green and Customer Service Account Inspector Jessica Hubbard.

The group included more than 10 participants, who were able to learn about the wastewater treatment process and how it impacts the environment. ReWa offers plant tours as a part of its public education programs. For more information, visit www.rewaonline.org.

Renewable Water Resources (ReWa)

ReWa's goal is to promote a cleaner environment, and to protect the public health and water quality of the Upstate waterways, while providing and developing the necessary sewer infrastructure for the growing economy. ReWa serves more than 400,000 industrial, commercial and residential customers in Greenville County and parts of Anderson, Spartanburg, Pickens and Laurens Counties.
